

Sarah Curtis MA, BA (Hons), Cert TEFL

I started teaching in the 1980s and taught in Portugal, Turkey, Indonesia and Japan before returning to the UK to do an MA in TEFL/TESL.

For many years I taught Business English in a private language school and then worked in adult education as an ESOL tutor.

I currently divide my time between teaching on university pre-sessional courses and teacher training, both in the UK and abroad. I have also written several EFL course books for UK publishers, as well as Workbooks and Teacher's Books.

I have been a Trinity examiner for many years, examining at all levels around the world.

In my free time I play football.

September 2015